

International Relations

Internationales

The Department of Computer Science maintains contacts to various partner universities abroad, in the following listed by name. These contacts form the basis the coordination of study visits for our own students abroad and support for foreign students at our university. In addition, we make use of our international contacts to institutions of higher learning to realize multinational research projects and teaching staff exchange.

The Department of Computer Science also provides general support geared towards enabling students to acquire international job experience through an internship abroad.

Should you as a student be interested in a highly recommended semester abroad or internship abroad, the department's foreign studies coordinator will gladly supply you with further information.

Useful additional information concerning scholarships for studies abroad, internships and diploma thesis placements abroad can be obtained on these pages.

- International Partner Universities
- Scholarships, Internships, Diploma Thesis Placements